HEALTHPOINT to Begin Marketing and Selling Collagenase Santyl[®]

Texas-based HEALTHPOINT[®] to Manufacture, Market, Sell Santyl[®] line as Part of Its Leading Wound Care Portfolio

(Fort Worth, TX) --- HEALTHPOINT, Ltd., a DFB Pharmaceuticals Inc. affiliate company, today announced that it will begin marketing and selling the Collagenase SANTYL[®] Ointment product line.

The marketing and selling of SANTYL Ointment builds upon HEALTHPOINT's announcement in March 2006 that it purchased the topical collagenase business from BioSpecifics Technologies Corp. As a result of that purchase, HEALTHPOINT's affiliate assumed ownership and operation of BioSpecifics' manufacturing facility in Curaçao and certain other assets in Lynbrook, NY, owned by BioSpecifics' affiliate, Advance Biofactures Corporation. HEALTHPOINT's affiliate plans to invest $1.5 million in upgrading the newly acquired manufacturing facilities which currently produce Collagenase ABC, the essential ingredient in the prescription drug Collagenase SANTYL.

"HEALTHPOINT's marketing and selling of the Collagenase SANTYL franchise showcases our commitment to offering customers an impressive range and depth of high-quality wound care products," said Michael E. Steadman, President of HEALTHPOINT's Tissue Management Division. "We continually strive to bring value and convenience to the wound care market, and believe that SANTYL, which is widely used as a debriding agent for highly sensitive patients, will serve as a valuable addition to our portfolio of enzymatic debriders, which includes ACCUZYME[®] and the dual action healing agent, PANAFIL[®]."

Collagenase SANTYL Ointment is a sterile enzymatic ointment used to debride pressure ulcers, chronic dermal ulcers, and severely burned areas by digesting collagen, a major component of devitalized tissue. The enzyme collagenase is derived from the fermentation of the bacterium Clostridium histolyticum.
