New Corporate Website Takes A Customer-Focused Approach

HEALTHPOINT closes a successful 2009 and starts 2010 with a significant milestone-the launch of an improved corporate website. As part of the company's commitment to advancing the science of wound care, the corporate website has been revamped to better meet the needs of HEALTHPOINT customers and the wound care community. With easier navigability, enhanced content, a more streamlined application process, and an overall restructure, this website is sure to be a valuable asset for those seeking information about the company, our products, and our wound care initiatives. The website restructuring includes the addition of individual product «microsites,» which allows us to provide more detailed product information to healthcare professionals and patients while keeping the HEALTHPOINT website corporate- and company-focused.
